About the 2021 IACAT conference

We are delighted to announce that the 8th IACAT conference will be hosted by the Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany. With more than 45,000 students and a strong research record, the Goethe University is one of the major German universities.

With the conference theme “Enhancing testing and assessment in the digital age with computerized adaptive testing” the 2021 IACAT conference seeks to link the two areas of CAT and artificial intelligence (AI) in an interdisciplinary fashion. Keynotes will be given by three of the most distinguished researchers in the field. Additionally, there will be a wealth of individual oral presentations, symposia, and innovative interactive sessions on cutting-edge CAT and AI research and applications. In the fashion of IACAT's previous conferences, we anticipate 150+ participants from across the globe.
